PREFACE.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, BUREAU OF PENSIONS, Washington, D. C., September 6, 1900.

SIR: Some years ago I compiled, for the use of the Bureau, an alphabetical list of battles of the war of the rebellion, which I afterwards revised. Many additions thereto were made and the battles of the Mexican, Indian, and Revolutionary wars were also included. This compilation was as complete as it was possible to make it from the data to be procured at the time, and it is an accepted fact that it has proved to be of great assistance to the Bureau.

Some eight or ten years ago, when the Government commenced the publication of the Rebellion Record, I began a second revision of the Alphabetical List of Battles, taking said record as authority. I have also used all the data obtainable from the reports of the various Departments and from what would appear to be other reliable sources, relative to the Spanish-American war and the Philippine insurrection, such as is believed will be valuable in the adjudication of pension claims on account of service in said wars.

The work of revision has been done evenings and at odd hours, principally out of the office. It is now finished and, although it may have imperfections, it is believed to be as complete as it is possible to make a work of this kind.

I desire to present to you the manuscript for publication for the use of the Pension Bureau, reserving for myself all other rights pertaining thereto.

Very respectfully,

N. A. STRAIT.

Hon. H. CLAY EVANS, Commissioner of Pensions.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, BUREAU OF PENSIONS, Washington, September 18, 1900.

DEAR SIR: I have to acknowledge and thank you for your generous offer of the 6th instant of permission to have printed a limited number of copies of the Alphabetical List of Battles, compiled by yourself for the use and information of this Bureau.

The first edition of the List of Battles and your Roster of Regimental Surgeons, with post-office addresses, have proved of valuable assistance to the work of this Bureau.

You state that the work of revision has been done evenings and at odd hours. Under those circumstances I consider you justified in reserving for yourself all other rights and benefits to be derived from the book, and the same should be respected. Very respectfully,

H. CLAY EVANS, Commissioner.

Dr. N. A. Strait, Washington, D. C.

CAUSES OF THE REBELLION.

The North and the South had for years held antagonistic views on two vital questions—the tariff and slavery. The North, being largely engaged in manufacturing, desired a high tariff; while the South, whose wealth consisted of cotton, sugar, and slaves, desired free trade.

The question as to the boundary of slave territory was supposed to be finally settled by the Missouri Compromise of 1820, but when Kansas and Nebraska were established as Territories the compromise was repealed, and the question as to whether they should be free or slave States was left to the people of each Territory to decide for themselves.

Then the trouble began. Both parties, the proslavery and the antislavery, set to work to get a majority of the votes in their favor, but the settlers from the New England States poured into the new Territory so much more rapidly than those from the Southern States that when Kansas voted on the proposition she decided against slavery by an overwhelming majority.

This defeat of the proslavery people caused intense feeling throughout the South, and when the Republican party came into power by the election of Abraham Lincoln, November 6, 1860, the leaders in Southern politics knew that all hopes of a further extension of slave territory were gone, and they immediately began to plan for a dissolution of the Union.

The South Carolina Senators withdrew from Congress November 9 and 11, and that State formally seeeded, by a vote of the people, December 20, 1860. It was followed by Mississippi January 9; Florida, January 10; Alabama, January 11; Georgia, January 19; Louisiana, January 26; Texas, February 1; Virginia, April 17; Arkansas, May 6; North Carolina, May 21; and Tennessee June 8, 1861. The western portion of Virginia refused to secede, and became a separate State in 1863.

The war opened with the firing on the Star of the West by the Confederate batteries in Charleston Harbor January 9, 1861, and closed, practically, with Lee's surrender, April 9, 1865.

[Number of deaths in the Navy and Marine Corps not included.]

*Number not credited upon the quotas of any State.

† Includes losses in all colored organizations excepting three regiments from Massachusetts.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

With the exception of three Massachusetts regiments (organized and officered exclusively by the State authorities) whose casualties are included with those of the white troops from that State, all losses in the 178,975 colored troops are reported separately, irrespective of any credits allowed upon the quotas of the States. The deaths in the excepted regiments aggregated 574.

In all other cases the figures in the column of deaths represent only such as occurred among the white troops and Indians. Information relative to the number of deaths in the Navy and Marine Corps belongs to the Navy Department.

The colored soldiers organized under the direct authority of the General Government and not credited to any State were recruited as follows:

In Alabama, 4,969; Arkansas, 5,526; Colorado, 95; Florida, 1,044; Georgia, 3,486; Louisiana, 24,052; Mississippi, 17,869; North Carolina, 5,035; South Carolina, 5,462; Tennessee, 20,133; Texas, 47; Virginia, 5,723.

There were also 5,896 negro soldiers enlisted at large, or whose credits are not specifically expressed by the records.

Of the number of colored troops credited to the States, 5,052 were obtained under the provisions of section 3, act of Congress approved July 4, 1864, from the States that had secended.

The number of officers and men of the Regular Army among whom the casualties herein noted occurred is estimated at 67,000; the number in the Veteran Reserve Corps was 60,508; and in Hancock's Veteran Corps, 10,883.

The other organizations of white volunteers organized directly by the United States authorities numbered about 11,000.

unknown officer before mentioned. The distinguished party had been there but a very short time before the officer from the fort ap-peared anxious to have them move from their exposed position. The compiler was not near enough to hear the conversation, but the uneasiness of the officer to get them to return was very plain, as shown by his gestures and movements. He finally rather abruptly took the glasses from the Presi-dent's hand and returned them to their case, starting in the direction of the carriage, the party fol-lowed, but rather reluctantly. I believe Mr. Stanton accompanied the officer from the fort on his return to the carriage, the President and the other officer following. The party passed within a few feet of the compiler both in going and returning to their earriage, and were in full view during their entire stay, which did not exceed thirty minutes. It was after wards learned that the anxiety of the officer from the fort to get the party to a less exposed position was on account of several shots having struck but a short distance from where they were standing.

¹The compiler recalls having seen President Lincoln and Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton, ¹The compiler recalls having seen President Lincoln and Secretary of War Edwin M. Stanton, accompanied by a military officer unknown to him, at Fort Stevens on the forencon of July 11. Arriving by the Fourteenth street road, their carriage stopped and they alighted about 100 feet from the Brightwood Hotel and crossed the Seventh street road in the rear of the fort, or near where the car barn is now situated. They halted on a small knoll or rise of ground located on the right and not quite abreast of the fort. As they were crossing the Seventh street road they were joined by an officer from the fort with a pair of field glasses, with which he swept the country until he evidently located the object sought. He then handed the glasses to the President, at the same time pointing in the direction that he desired him to look. The glasses were in turn passed to Mr. Stanton and to the unknown officer before mentioned. unknown officer before mentioned.

The expedition was in command of Lieut. Col. B. D. Pritchard, of the Fourth Michigan Volunteer Cavalry. The party was surprised in camp about daylight near Abbeville, Ga., the morning of the 10th. In the confusion the First Wisconsin and Fourth Michigan Cavalry fired upon each other, killing one officer and two men and wounding three others of the First Wisconsin. The prisoners captured were as follows:

Jefferson Davis, President Confederate States of America. John H. Reagan, postmaster-general.

Colonel Johnson, aid-de-camp, President's staff.

Colonel Lubbock, aid-de-camp.

Col. Burton N. Harrison, private secretary to the President.

Maj. Victor Maurin, Richardson's Battalion Light Artillery.

Capt. George V. Moody, Madison's Light Artillery. Lieutenant Hathaway, Fourteenth Kentucky Cavalry.

Midshipman Jeff. D. Howell, Confederate States Navy.

Twelve privates.

The family of Mr. Davis consisted of Mrs. Davis, with four children, Miss Maggie Howell, sister of Mrs. Davis, two maids, and several servants. The disguise worn by Mr. Davis at the time of his capture consisted of a lady's waterproof cloak or robe and a shawl. These articles were brought to Washington and turned over to the Secretary of War by Lieutenant-Colonel Pritchard, from whose official report the above was taken.

TROUBLES IN CHINA.

In the spring of 1900 the perilous situation of the members of the American legation at Pekin and their complete isolation in the midst of an unruly and murderous populace demanded prompt action for their relief. The commanding general, Division of the Philippines, was therefore instructed by cable, June 16, 1900, to send at once a regiment of infantry to Taku, and six days later Maj. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, U. S. Volunteers, was selected to command the United States troops to compose the China relief expedition.

AUTHORITY FOR INCREASE AND REORGANIZATION OF THE REGULAR AND VOLUNTEER MILITARY FORCES.

[From report of the Adjutant-General.]

On the passage of the joint resolution, approved April 20, 1898, demanding that Spain relinquish its authority and government in the island of Cuba and to withdraw its land and naval forces from Cuba and Cuban waters, the Army of the United States consisted of 2,143 officers and 26,040 enlisted men.

Under the above resolution and the act of April 22, 1898, the President issued a proclamation April 23, 1898, calling for 125,000 volunteers. This was followed on May 25, 1898, by a proclamation calling for 75,000 volunteers. The approval of the act of April 26, 1898, increased the Regular Army to 63,106

The approval of the act of April 26, 1898, increased the Regular Army to 63,106 men, to be reduced at the end of the war to a peace basis, namely, 26,610 enlisted men. Meeting this instruction of the Congress, the men enlisted under the above act (practically for the war with Spain) were informed, in General Orders, No. 40, May 10, 1898, that they would be granted their discharge, if desired, at the close of the war, upon individual application.

By the act approved May 11, 1898, Congress authorized, in addition to the volunteers provided by the act of April 22, the organization of a volunteer brigade of engineers of not more than 3,500 men. The same act authorized the organization of an additional volunteer force not exceeding 10,000 men, possessing immunity from disease incident to tropical climates.

The protocol was signed August 12, 1898, and on September 5, 1898, the first organization of volunteers was mustered out of the service. This was followed immediately by orders for the muster out of nearly one-half of the Volunteer Army.

On the signing of the treaty of peace, April 11, 1899, it at once became necessary to muster out all the volunteer organizations, but, as stated heretofore, the volunteers in the Philippines cheerfully remained and rendered service until the Government was able to send regular and volunteer regiments to relieve them.

The act of March 2, 1899, authorized the President to "enlist" from the nation at large 35,000 volunteers, or so much thereof as might be necessary. Under the same act Congress authorized the recruitment of the Regular Army to 65,000 men.

Under the act of March 2, 1899, authority was given the commanding general, Department of Porto Rico, to recruit a battalion of volunteers (400) from among the Porto Ricans, and such recruiting began on March 24, 1899.

Porto Ricans, and such recruiting began on March 24, 1899. On July 5, 1899, the President, through the Secretary of War, ordered the organization of ten regiments of volunteer infantry; on July 18, 1899, of two regiments of volunteer infantry and a regiment of volunteer cavalry (the three regiments last named to 'be organized and recruited in the Philippine Islands); on August 17, 1899, of ten additional regiments of volunteer infantry; and on September 9, 1899, of two additional regiments of volunteer infantry (the enlisted men and company officers of the last two regiments to be colored).

¹On the lines of the general officers and staff corps, in the column under the heading, "Strength at muster in," the total number appointed or enlisted is shown, and in the column under the heading, "Strength at muster out," the number remaining in service November 30, 1899, is stated. "From this total should be deducted the number of officers and enlisted men accounted for under the headings, "Promoted" or "Transferred," as they were promoted or transferred in their own reg-iments or to other organizations in the volunteer service, therefore being no loss; also 453 officers of the Regular Army who held commissions in the volunteers. "From this total should be deducted 891, this number having been appointed to be commissioned officers, and so accounted for.

⁴Includes 4 Regular Army officers holding volunteer commissions.

State authorities, assisted by some United States troops. WAR OF THE REBELLION (April 15, 1861, to August 20, 1866).—The last-named date is held by the Supreme Court as the legal termination of the war. On that date President Johnson issued a proclamation stating that the war was at an end, the proclamation being necessary, as the State of Texas was not finally subdued until that date.1

It is held by the Pension Bureau and Secretary of the Interior that enlistments in loyal States alter April 13, 1865, will not be deemed as rebellion service for pension-able purposes. Enlistments in any other States, Territories, or District of Columbia after June 1, 1865, will not be deemed as enlistments for the war of the rebellion.

It is held that enlistments in the United States Navy after July 1, 1865, were not in or for the war of the rebellion. To overcome this the burden of proof is upon the claimant.

In another decision it is held by the Assistant Secretary of the Interior that the technical legal termination of the war was August 20, 1866. Service rendered after July, 1865, will be presumed not to have been in said war, and that burden of proof will be upon the claimant.

Service rendered after April 2, 1866, must be shown to have been rendered in some connection with the war as existing in the State of Texas.

Service rendered in the State of Tennessee after June 13, 1865, will be presumed not to have been in said war.

Prosident Johnson issued a peace proclamation May 9, 1865.

Recruiting for the war ceased immediately after General Lee's surrender April 9, 1865, and muster-out began April 29, 1865. The last battle or skirmish is reported to have been fought May 13, 1865, and the last Confederate forces surrendered May 26, 1865.

The blockade was raised by proclamation June 23, 1865, and General Grant's final official report of military operations is dated July 22, 1865.¹

THE SPANISH-AMERICAN WAR.

From April 21, 1898, to April 11, 1899. (The protocol was signed August 12, 1898.) For a period of ten years, from 1868 to 1878, the inhabitants of Cuba were engaged in a struggle to free themselves from the yoke of Spanish tyranny, but were defeated. The Spanish Government made most liberal promises, but failed to keep them.

Hostilities were renewed which lasted for three years, from 1895 to 1898. The inhabitants were in a most deplorable condition; the reconcentrados—men, women, and children, noncombatants—were by edict of the Spanish captain-general, Weyler, driven from their homes, crowded together without proper food or shelter, and died by thousands of disease and starvation.

The attention and sympathy of the American people had for several years been attracted to this miserable condition of the Cubans, and many attempts had been made to relieve their distress.

At the beginning of 1898 about 40 per cent of the inhabitants had perished. At this juncture two events happened which increased the tension in the United States. One was the exposure of a letter written by Señor de Lône, the Spanish minister to the United States, to a friend, grossly reflecting upon the President; the other was a demand by the Spanish Government for the recall from Cuba of Consul-General Lee, which was refused.

On the 25th of January, 1898, the United States battleship Maine was ordered to Habana Harbor, on a peaceful mission, by the authority of the United States, and on the 15th of February, 1898, between 9 and 10 o'clock p. m., the vessel was blown up by a submarine mine, 266 sailors loosing their lives. A searching investigation followed without fixing the responsibility. Congress immediately appropriated $50,000,000 "for the national defense and for each and every purpose connected therewith, to be expended at the discretion of the President."

After fruitless effort to bring about an amicable settlement, on April 11, 1898, the President asked Congress to intervene to stop the Cuban war, and by force to establish a stable government on the island. On April 19, 1898, Congress passed resolutions, which were signed by the President at 11.24 a. m. the following day, declaring "that the people of the island of Cuba are, and by right ought to be, free and independent," and demanding that Spain at once relinquish its authority in the island, etc. It also authorized the President to use the entire military force of the United States to carry the resolution into effect.

The diplomatic relations between the two countries ceased April 21, 1898, and it was held that a state of war existed from that date. Blockade of the principal Cuban ports was declared April 22, and on the 23d the President called for 125,000 volunteers to serve two years, and on May 24 the Spanish Government announced that a state of war between that country and the United States existed.

The protocol of agreement between the United States and Spain was signed at Washington, D. C., August 12, 1898, by William R. Day and Jules Cambon.

The treaty of peace was signed at Paris December 10, 1898, by William R. Day, Cushman K. Davis, William P. Frye, George Gray, and Whitelaw Reid, for the United States, and by Eugenió Montero Ríos, B. de Abarzuza, J. de Garnica, W. R. de Villa Urrutia, and Rafael Cerero, for the Kingdom of Spain.

Signed at Paris, December 10, 1898; ratification advised by the Senate February 6, 1899; ratified by the President February 6, 1899; ratified by Her Majesty the Queen Regent of Spain March 19, 1899; ratifications exchanged at Washington April 11, 1899; proclaimed, Washington, April 11, 1899.

BATTLES OF THE OLD WARS, 1754-1848,

ALPHABETICALLY ARRANGED, INCLUDING CHRONOLOGICAL SUMMARY OF EVENTS OF THE MEXICAN WAR.

FRENCH AND INDIAN WAR, 1754-1763.

The French and Indian war was carried on between the English and French colonies in America for the possession of North America. France claimed the whole region west of the Alleghanies as a part of the basins of the St. Lawrence and Mississippi. England claimed the country west of its Atlantic settlements. The French numbered about 80,000 whites assisted by the Indians; the English more than 1,100,000, but were divided into 13 discordant governments. The war ended in 1763, on the signing of the treaty of peace in Paris. France resigned to England all her possessions east of the Mississippi, and Spain, New Orleans, and her possessions west of that river.

Wolfe captured Quebec on the 12th. Both generals fell.

Loss: English, 664; French, 640.

THE WAR OF THE REVOLUTION.

April 19, 1775, to April 11, 1783.—Treaty of alliance with France and acknowledging independence February 6, 1778. The causes of the Revolution were the various attempts of the British Parliament to impose taxes on the colonies without their consent and refusing representation in Parliament.

Augusta, S. C., siege and capture of, May 23-June 4, 1781.—Americans, killed and wounded, 51; British, killed, 52; wounded and prisoners, 334. Barren Hill, Pa., May 20, 1777.—General Grant, with 7,000 British, made an Barren Hill, Pa., May 20, 1777.—General Grant, with 7,000 British, made an attempt to surprise Lafayette, with 2,500 men. The latter escaped by a masterly retreat.

Bemis Heights, N. Y.-See Stillwater.

Bennington, Vt., August 16, 1777.—This battle was fought in two parts by 1,600 Massachusetts and New Hampshire militia under General Stark. In the first part they defeated 600 Germans under Colonel Baum, and in the second they put to rout 500 Germans under Colonel Breyman. Loss: German, 280 killed and wounded, and 654 made prisoners; American, 100 killed and wounded. After the defeat of Baum, 500 reenforcements arrived under Colonel Breyman, and the battle was renewed, but resulted in a complete defeat of the combined forces.

Blackstocks Ford, on Tiger River, S. C., November 20, 1780.—American troops under General Sumter, led by Joseph Kerr, a spy, surprised and defeated 1,500 British and Tories under Colonel Tarleton. Americans, killed and wounded, 11; Tories, 50 to 100.

Boston Harbor, December 16, 1773.-Destruction of tea in.

Boston, Mass.—Evacuated March 17, 1776, by 7,000 British, after a siege of nearly eleven months.

Boundbrook,¹ N. J., June 26, 1777.—Five hundred Americans under General Lincoln were attacked by 2,000 British under Cornwallis, but Lincoln effected the retreat of his troops with the loss of only 60 men. Brandyrine, Del., September 11, 1777.—Fought between the British army under Brandyvine, Del., September 11, 1777.—Fought between the British army under Lord Cornwallis and the Americans under General Washington. The King's troops won the victory. Lafayette was first wounded in this battle. Loss: American, 300 killed, 600 wounded, and 400 made prisoners; British, 100 killed and 400 wounded.

Briar Creek, Ga., March 3, 1779.—A British force, under General Prevost, surprised 1,500 North Carolina militia and 60 Continentals under Generals Ashe and Elbert, and defeated them. Loss: American, 150 killed and 162 made prisoners; British, 16 killed and wounded.

Broad River, S. C., November 12, 1780.—Fought between the Americans under General Sumter and the British under Major Wemyss. British defeated.

Bunker (Breeds) Hill, Mass., June 17, 1775.—Fought between 1,500 Americans under Colonel Prescott and Generals Putnam, Warren, and Pomeroy and 3,000 British grenadiers and light infantry under Generals Howe, Pigot, and Clinton. The British overpowered the Americans, but not until their ammunition was exhausted. Loss: American, 139 killed, 314 wounded and missing; British, 226 killed, 828 wounded and missing. It is doubtful if Pomeroy was the principal officer. General Putnam, it is claimed, was in command. (Who was in command is not well established.)

The following is another account of the same battle:

On the night of June 16, 1775, a detachment of about 1,200 men left Cambridge under orders to fortify and defend the heights overlooking Boston. Col. William Prescott, from his experience in military affairs and his being an officer in the Massachusetts line, had been chosen to conduct the enterprise. The start was made about 9 o'clock. At Charlestown Neck they were met by the wagons laden with intrenching tools. It was necessary to proceed with the utmost caution, for they were coming on ground over which the British kept jealous watch. The orders were to fortify Bunker Hill, but when the designated place was reached it was decided that Breeds Hill (about 700 yards distant) was the better point to hold, as it was nearer Boston and had a better command of the town and shipping. The lines for the fortifications were marked out. The mes sized their trenching tools and set to work with great spirit. Prescott, who felt the responsibility of his charge, almost despaired of carrying on these operations undiscovered. A party was sent to patrol the shore at the foot of the heights and watch for any movement of the enemy. Not willing to trust entirely to the vigilance of others, he twice went down during the night to the water's edge, reconnoitering everything scrupulously and noting every sight and sound. At dawn of day the Americans at work were espied by the sailors on board of the ships of war, and the alarm was given. The captain of the Lively, the nearest ship, without waiting for orders, opened fire upon the hill; the other ships followed his example. Prescott now mounted the parapet and walked leisurely about inspecting the works, giving directions and talking cheerfully with the men. Encouraged by the words and the brave example of their commander, standing in full view at the top of the embankment with cannon balls passing him on all sides, the men completed the earthworks and prepared to meet the British soldiers.

Canden, or Hobkirks Hill, S. C., April 25, 1781.—Fought between 900 British under Lord Rawdon and 1,200 Americans under General Greene. The Americans were defeated, but took 50 British prisoners.

Canden (Sanders Creek), S. C., August 16, 1780.—Fought between 3,663 Americans under General Gates and 2,100 British under Lord Cornwallis. Baron de Kalb was mortally wounded, and the Americans were defeated. Loss: American, 1,500 killed, wounded, and made prisoners; British, 324 killed and wounded.

Cutawba Ford, S. C., August 18, 1780.—The British under Colonel Tarleton attacked 650 Americans under Sumter, killed, captured, or dispersed the whole party, and retook 300 British prisoners. Loss: British, 9 killed and 6 wounded. The Americans had captured two hogsheads of rum and were generally drunk when attacked.

Cedar, Canada, May 16 and May 24, 1776 .- To release the captured of Bedel's regiment.

Cedar Rapids, St. Lawrence River, Canada, May 9, 1776. Charleston, S. C., siege of, May 12, 1780.—The city was defended by about 5,000 Americans under General Lincoln. After a siege of a month by a strong British force under Sir Henry Clinton, General Lincoln was compelled to capitulate. Loss: American, 89 killed, 140 wounded, and 5,000 made prisoners; British, 76 killed and American, 85 kmeti, 146 wounded, and 5,000 mate place Deteriors, Databa, 16 kmet and 140 wounded. The British evacuated the place December 14, 1782.

Fort George, N. Y., taking of, November, 1780.—Fort George was defended by the British and attacked and taken by 80 Americans under Major Talmage. Loss: British, 8 killed and wounded and 57 made prisoners; American, 1 wounded. (Was the old Fort William Henry, end of Lake George, N. Y.) Fort Griswold, Conn., taking of, September 6, 1781.—The fort was defended by 160

Americans under Colonel Ledyard and assaulted and taken by a British force under Colonel Eyre. Loss: American, 80 killed, 40 wounded, and 40 made prisoners; British, 48 killed and 145 wounded.

Fort Lee, N. J., evacuated November 18, 1776, by Americans, which was compelled by the capture of Fort Montgomery, on the opposite side of the Hudson River, and the approach of a large British force under Cornwallis. General Washington made a hasty and successful retreat into the interior of New Jersey.

Fort Mercer.-See Red Bank, N. J.

Fort Mifflin, on the Delaware River, near Philadelphia, October 23-November 16,1777. Fort Montgomery.—See Fort Clinton.

Fort Moultrie (formerly Fort Sullivan), S. C., bombardment of, June 28, 1776.-Colonel Moultrie, with 400 Americans, defended the fort, on which were mounted 26 cannon. Sir Peter Parker, with two 50-gun ships, four frigates of 28 guns, and four smaller vessels, mounting in all 270 guns, kept up a furious bombardment for ten hours, but was finally compelled to retire with the loss of the Acteon, frigate. Loss: British, 200 killed and wounded; American, 10 killed and 22 wounded.

Fort Sullivan, Charleston Harbor.—See Fort Moultrie, S. C. Fort Washington, N. Y., taking of, November 16, 1776.—This fort was defended by

2,967 Americans under Colonel Magaw. The British marched to the assault under General Matthews and Lords Cornwallis and Percy; the Hessians under General Knyphausen. After some severe fighting Colonel Magaw perceived that defense was hopeless and surrendered the fort. Loss: American, 53 killed, 96 wounded, and 2,818 made prisoners; British and Hessian, 800 killed and wounded, Freemans Farm, N. Y.—See Stillwater. Germantown, Pa., October 4, 1777.—Fought between 11,000 Americans under General Washington and 20,000 British under General Howe. The Americans were defeated. Loss: American, 200 killed, 600 wounded, and 400 made prisoners; British, 100 killed and 500 wounded.

Great Bridge, Elizabeth River, near Norfolk, Va., December 9, 1775.—Lord Dunmore commanding British and Tories. Colonel Woodford leading 300 colonial soldiers. Dunmore force was defeated with a loss of 100 men. Woodford sustained no loss.

Green Spring Plantation, near Jamestown, Va., July 7, 1781.—Battle.

Early Pension Legislation.

It will be of interest to know that the foundation of our present pension system is older than the Declaration of Independence.

The first national pension law was passed August 26, 1776, before our independence was established. But prior to this, early in the history of colonial legislation, many of the English colonies in America had provided for the relief of wounded and maimed soldiers.

In 1636 the Pilgrims at Plymouth enacted in their courts that any man who should be sent forth as a soldier and return maimed should be maintained competently by the colony during his life. This was probably the first pension law passed in America. In 1676 a standing committee of the general court of Massachusetts Bay held regular meetings in "Boston toune house" to hear the applications of wounded soldiers for relief. After the union of Massachusetts Bay and Plymouth colonies under the charter of 1691, the province continued to make provision for the relief of disabled soldiers out of the public treasury. In 1644 the Virginia assembly passed a disability pension law, and later provision for the relief of the indigent families of soldiers who should be slain. Similar acts are found in the colonial statutes of Maryland and New York in the latter part of the seventeenth century. In 1718 Rhode Island enacted a pension law, which provided that every officer, soldier, or sailor employed in the colony's service, who should be disabled by loss of limb or otherwise from getting a livelihood for himself and family or other dependent relatives, should have his wounds carefully looked after and healed at the colony's charge, and should have an annual pension for the maintenance of himself and family or other dependent relatives. The law further provided that if any person, who had the charge of maintaining a wife, children, parents, or other relatives, should be slain in the colony's military service, these relatives should be maintained while unable to provide for themselves.

The above shows that the custom of pensioning soldiers is as old as the English settlement.

The first national pension law, that of August 26, 1776, promised half pay for life or during disability to every officer, soldier, or sailor losing a limb in any engagement, or being so disabled in the service of the United States as to render him incapable of earning a livelihood.

On August 24, 1780, a resolution was adopted extending the above half-pay provision to the widows or orphan children of such officers as had died, or should die in the service. This was the first national pension law in behalf of widows and orphans.

On April 23, 1782, Congress provided that soldiers who were sick or wounded or unfit for duty should receive a discharge and be pensioned at the rate of 55 per month. It is further shown that history is repeating itself, as Congress was as unable at that time as at the present to enact pension laws that were in all respects satisfactory to the masses. The money was not always in the Treasury to pay the pensions after the same had been granted, much being promised but little realized. Many were paid in commutation certificates payable to them or bearer and drawing interest at 6 per cent, but no provision was made for paying either. Many of these were compelled to part with their certificates as low as $12\frac{1}{2}$ cents on the dollar.

NOTE.—Section 4699, Revised Statutes, provides that the rate of eighteen dollars per month may be proportionately divided for an degree of disability established for which section forty-six hundred and ninety-five makes no provision, thus fixing the highest rating provided by existing laws which can be allowed by considering disabilities separately and compounding so as to allow the full amount which the disabilities, so considered, would aggregate.

disabilities, so considered, would aggregate. The act of March 2, 1895, provides that all pensioners now on the rolls who are pensioned at less than six dollars per month, for any degree of pensionable disability, shall have their pensions increased to six dollars per month; and that, hereafter, whenever any applicant for pension would, under existing rates, be entitled to less than six dollars for any single disability or several combined disabilities, such pensioner shall be rated at not less than six dollars per month: Provided also, That the provisions hereof shall not be held to cover any pensionable period prior to the passage of this act, nor authorize a rerating of any claim for any part of such period, nor prevent the allowance of lower rates than six dollars per month, according to the existing practice in the Pension Office in pending cases covering any pensionable period prior to the passage of this act.

WIDOWS.

The widow of a soldier or sailor who died of a disability incurred while in the service and in line of duty is, under the provisions of section 4702, Revised Statutes, entitled to the rating to which he would have been entitled for a simple total disability, as shown in Table I; and under the provisions of section 4696, Revised Statutes, the rank of the soldier is determined by the rank held by him when death cause was incurred, without regard to subsequent promotions.

From and after March 19, 1886, by the act approved on that date, the widow of a private or noncommissioned officer is entitled to $12 per month, provided that she married deceased soldier or sailor prior to March 19, 1886, or thereafter married him prior to or during his term of service.

WIDOW'S INCREASE.

From and after July 25, 1866, a widow is entitled to $2 per month increase for each legitimate minor child of the soldier or sailor in her care and custody.

MINOR'S PENSION.

Same rates and increase as in widows' claims, except that in cases of children of fathers below the rank of a commissioned officer the rate is increased to $12 per month from March 19, 1886, without regard to date of soldier's or sailor's marriage.

MOTHERS, FATHERS, AND BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

Same rates as provided in minors' and widows' claims in cases of commissioned officers, and $8 per month to March 19, 1886, and $12 thereafter in other cases.
